Around the Square

"Humor", says Bernard De Voto, Harper critic, "is one of the mind's devices for making life tolerable."

As something different, we reproduce a letter here from which every veteran and amateur mountaineer should derive a chuckle:

On the bank of the King's River
"Please cross off the "good night" at the end of yesterday's letter. I said it too soon. Things are not the same here in the mountains as they are at home.

For instance, I find that when I would "project myself into my sleeping bag" I said a whole lot. "Project" is right. And the "bag" part is correct; but the "sleeping" is a misnomoner.

My bag is about 30 inches wide and 7 feet long and sewed up all the way around except for what you might call the head end.

I folded my 4 pair of blankets so they would fit inside the bag, but projecting the blankets into the bag is quite an art, and one with which I was distressingly unfamiliar.

I have seen pillows put into pillow cases, so I tried that method. But the bag is 7 feet long, and I am only 5 feet 7 inches high—so you will understand why that method did not work.

Finally I drove two stakes into the ground to which I attached the open end of the bag. I then got down on my hands and knees, grabbed one end of the blankets, got a good toehold on the earth—and dove into the bag head first. The method was effective although I had to emerge twice for air.

Then I entered the process of entering the sleeping bag, sans boots and hat.

First you sit down on the spot where the pillow would be if you had a pillow which you have not. Then you bend your knees and draw your feet close to your body. Discovering the dead-center of the blankets—so you will have as much cover beneath as above—you project your legs down into the bag.

If you have managed this properly, you will now be in your bag up to your knees. Then you raise your body off the ground—give it a swinging motion like a pendulum—and at the forward limit of the third swing, sit down again.

Now straighten your legs—and you will have gained almost eight inches on your way into the bag.

Now you must recline on the flat of your back, stand on your head and heels at the same time and follow the example of the inch-worm. Each wiggle gains six inches. Repeat the process six or seven times and you should be completely enveloped for the night.

Having accomplished all these things within thirty minutes, (which I understand ties the amateur record) I resigned myself to sleep. However, the resignation was not accepted.

Mosquitoes descended. Regiments, divisions, armies—limitless and infinite.

I extracted myself from the sleeping bag, carefully closing the opening thereto, to prevent a flanking movement from the enemy and possible subsequent defeat by ambush.

I started a small bonfire, covered it with damp leaves, produced a beautiful smudge and the enemies fled.

Elated with my victory. I devoted the next 34 minutes to reprojecting myself into the sleeping bag. Of course, with so much smoke my eyes watered and I had difficulty breathing, but in an hour or so I became accustomed to it and was just dozing off when I heard a crackling sound nearby.

Twisting my head I saw that the brush was now burning and disaster impended. I got out of my bag and in half an hour had extinguished the flames.

In another half hour I had again entered the bag ,but, can you envision it—before I could close my eyes the pink glow of the rising sun kissed the snow-capped crest of the distant Sierra.

So, as I say, just scratch the "good night" off yesterday's letter and add "to be continued."

Cooperation Aids Fire Prevention

Because Sierra Madre's fire losses have been very small in comparison to reports of losses throughout the United States, there is no reason for us to become lax in our continuous fight to prevent fire.

Proof that our battle to prevent fires pays, may be realized when we learn that the annual toll of 10,000 deaths from fire, together with property loss which exceeded $560,000,000 in 1946, caused President Truman to sponsor a nation-wide effort to cope with the fire menace.

The fire toll has been rising since 1934. 1946 was the most destructive year in our recent history with a property loss of $561,487,000. This was 23 percent greater than in 1945. The last month in 1946 showed the heaviest fire loss for any single month in the last 16 years, $58,094,000.

The series of hotel fires which occurred in the La Salle, Canfield, Winecoff and Barry Hotels have brought forth repercussions that have been far reaching. Tragic as they were in loss of life and property, these catastrophes may yet serve a beneficial purpose, just as did the Iroquois Theater and the Cocoanut Grove holocausts by focusing attention on the [illegible] fire departments and the fire prevention structure of buildings. They have served the purpose of arousing municipal officials to take stock and overhaul the facilities of their fire departments.

Here in our little city, it is necessary that everybody be a fire inspector. We MUST constantly bear in mind that fire is destructive and can be prevented. We can all do good by keeping in touch with what causes fires and abiding by the rules and regulations that are so valuable in stopping fires before they get started. Many structures in Sierra Madre are capable of creating catastrophes. Our rules and regulations lack "teeth" to force alterations that spell better safety.

Fortunately our residents remain "fire conscious" and because they are, much destructive fire is prevented.

The summer holidays are anxious days for firemen. Not only because of the dryness, but because of children on vacation, fireworks, and the general vacation attitude, when folks are inclined to become carefree, and in a sense, just a little careless.

It would seem futile to repeat what our paper, the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, continuously prints each week about the danger of fire and ways to prevent it, if we did not know for certain that constant reminding is one way to keep the matter alive.

The most common fires here in Sierra Madre are caused by flying embers, overheated stoves, careless open out-door burning and the treacherous cigarette. That little cigarette allowed to simmer in a waste basket, a couch, a bed, in dry weeds or anywhere is a real menace.

We cannot relax. We must be careful. It is earnestly suggested that the parents of children in Sierra Madre forbid the use of fireworks that are liable to cause fire or disaster.

For your good, for the good of the firemen, for the good of the city and the nation, let's remember that we have been fire conscious in the past and that we intend to remain so.

JAMES C. HEASLEY,
Fire Chief,
City of Sierra Madre.

E. D. Robertson Now Permanent Postmaster

Former City Clerk Eddie Robertson took over as permanent Postmaster of Sierra Madre July 1, after Senate confirmation of the appointment.

Mr. Robertson had been named acting postmaster to succeed Tom Durning who resigned acting postmastership, but his permanent appointment came through before he assumed the post.

America has been sung about as the land of the free and the home of the brave.

History books have been filled with the brave deeds of the men who brought security to this country.

Our security is no accident. The latest example is World War II in which the bravery of the fighting men was equaled by the folks at home.

I am not worried about my future. I am willing to fight bravely for my country if I am called upon to give security to those who follow me.

The same effort that brought me security also brought me freedom.

Freedom is the very foundation of our country. Our forefathers settled here to gain a freedom which we take for granted.

—Prize-winning essay written by DENNIS LEES,
Sixth Grade student, Sierra Madre School.

"It is the common fate of the indolent to see their rights become a prey to the active. The condition upon which God has given liberty to man is eternal vigilance; which condition if he break, servitude is at once the consequence of his crime and the punishment of his guilt."

—JOHN PHILPOT CURRAN,
Speech upon the Right of Election, 1790.

Independence Day

COUNTY-WIDE CELEBRATION DUE FOR 4th

The Fifth Annual July Fourth Celebration, sponsored by Arcadia's Glenn Dyer Post No. 247 of the American Legion, and the Los Angeles County Parks and Recreation Department will get underway with a golf tournament at 7:00 A. M. and close with a magnificent display of night fireworks beginning at 8:30 P. M.

From the moment the first ball is teed off, the Arcadia County Park, at Huntington Drive and Santa Anita Avenue, just east of Santa Anita Race Track, will hum with activity. There will be games and contests for all ages, with cups and ribbons donated by Glenn Dyer Post, for the winners and runners-up.

Children in rompers will run races; youths will swim for prizes; adults will vie for laurels on the tennis courts, the bowling greens, the horseshoe pits. Fat men will huff and puff over a rolling green while small boys bury their faces in a pie-eating event, wives will raise their voices in a Husband-Calling Contest.

In mid-afternoon two of the best girl soft ball teams in Southern California, the Red Gals and the Signal Oil Ramblers, will put on a baseball exhibition in the large ball diamond.

The night display of fireworks, which is free of charge, will be a magnificent showing—the Glenn Dyer Post having donated over $1200 worth of fireworks.

WISH YOU WERE HERE

Putting out this week's issue with sleight of hand and remote control, the staff of the NEWS is now on vacation. We will be back and in full swing Monday morning, July 7, meanwhile office hours will be limited to 11 a. m. until 12 noon today and Saturday.

Chief Cites Grisly Toll In Warning

In all probability there will be approximately 9000 men, women and children killed and 850,000 persons injured in highway and other types of accidents during the month of July in the United States.

Your chance of being among the slaughtered or maimed is greater than that of persons in other localities because Los Angeles County has the worst traffic accident record in the nation.

During 1946, traffic accidents in Los Angeles County took a toll of ONE THOUSAND AND FIFTY (1050) KILLED AND THIRTY-NINE THOUSAND (39,000) INJURED.

The cost of highway accidents in Los Angeles County alone, for the same year, is estimated at ONE HUNDRED MILLION 100,000,000 DOLLARS.

Traffic accidents do not just happen; they are caused. In most accidents the cause is driver carelessness coupled with a law violation of some kind. They are entirely within the power of the driver to prevent.

If each automobile driver could ride, just once, on the ambulance or with the police investigators responding to an accident call and see the mangled bodies, the blood, and hear the screams and moans of the injured; see the shock and horror expressed on the faces of the survivors when they realize what occurred, I am sure that more careful and law-abiding drivers would be the result.

Do's and don'ts are not being made a part of this article because I am satisfied that the vast majority of drivers know the laws and know what violations are the most hazardous.

In accident prevention, coupled with education and law enforcement, a healthy fear and realization of the consequences together with a strong sense of responsibility for the lives and welfare of his passengers and others is necessary as a deterrent to carelessness and recklessness on the part of the driver.

I only hope that those who read this today will be reminded of it whenever they are behind the wheel, particularly over these holidays which every year take such a toll in lives and injuries.

G. G. McMillan,
Chief of Police,
City of Sierra Madre.

Tax Group Formed

A Sierra Madre Tax Association, to be called to order July 10 for a first meeting, was the successful outgrowth of last Wednesday's Town Meeting, conducted by the Woman's Club in the School auditorium.

Unanimous approval was accorded Mrs. R. A. Doyland's proposal that such a group be organized, and Mrs. C. A. Vane, sole nominee, was unanimously elected temporary chairman.

Reuel Olson of the San Gabriel Taxpayer's League, was the first speaker citing a decision of the California Supreme Court, to show that the L. A. County Board of Supervisors should not be able to sit as a quasi-judicial body to determine the very taxes which they are going to expend.

Drummond McCunn, Ass't Sup't of Pasadena Schools, answered specific questions which had been asked him, revealing that a move to join Sierra Madre in the Pasadena School district would bring a 9 cent drop in the school tax rate.

Sierra Madre School Sup't Charles A. Skutt gave a comprehensive report on local school enrollment and expenditure. Local cost per pupil totals $126, in Pasadena, $145, and in the County, cost averages $133.

Former City Clerk Eddie Robertson, presented a complete survey of all figures on City administration and Mrs. Vane concluded the speakers' program with a plea on behalf of the homeowner.

OUR KILLJOY ROADS

Are you making plans to take to the road over the long 4th of July holiday? Thirty-one Californians who did so on the three-day Memorial Day weekend came back in coffins, and of all who travelled throughout the State, few, it is safe to conjecture, really enjoyed the experience of bucking traffic along our killjoy highways.

Better roads had to wait, naturally enough, for the war to end. They're still waiting, but death doesn't wait, and every week as the highway death statistics printed in newspapers across the land play up California's roads as the motorists' enemy number one, the State's prestige as a tourist mecca slips another notch.

The time is still a bit distant before the helicopter sends the automobile out to pasture with the horse. In the meantime, the reaper of death gleans his harvest.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

TRIMMINGS are the favorite means of adding interest and becomingness to clothes. But the secret of effectiveness in trimmings lies in a sparing use of them. Very often, the home-sewer in her enthusiasm to obtain the professional look ruins the garment by overtrimming. A safe rule to follow is that of simplicity.

One touch of trimming is usually all that is necessary. Appliqué, arrowheads, bands, beading, bows, hemstitching or fagoting give the dress the center of interest so necessary to smart clothes. The decision on where and when to use trimming must be based upon the design of the dress itself. Simple designs with very few cuts are the best background for trimming.

Appliqué makes an attractive trimming on children's clothes, aprons, pillows, luncheon sets and novelties. It is done with pieces of material cut in interesting shapes, or with designs cut from figured fabrics such as chintz. Fabric appliqué designs can be found in the pattern or needlework catalogues. Flowers and other designs can be cut from figured fabrics. These must have an allowance of ⅛" to ¼" all around. After cutting out the design of appliqué in fabric, turn all raw edges on to the wrong side the amount of the allowance. Baste. Press. Remove bastings. If the pieces of appliqué are large enough to handle easily on the machine, stitch all around the raw edge the width of the allowance.

Turn the raw edge to the wrong side along the line of stitching. Crease and press. Place the design on the dress where it is to be used for trimming. Pin in place and study the effect. When it has been placed exactly right, baste. Fabric appliqués may be finished in three ways: (1) with a tiny blanket stitch; (2) by slip stitching the folded edge so that no stitches show; (3) by couching.

An example of decorative appliqué is this garden apron. The stems, leaves and flowers are appliquéd — and the plaid flowers match the trim across the deep pockets. You can carry all your gardening equipment—seeds, bulbs, spade, gloves, etc.—in the pockets within hand's reach. Why not try your skill at appliqué — starting with this apron? You may obtain this direction leaflet, which contains sewing directions and appliqué patterns, by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper. Ask for Leaflet No. E 129, APPLIQUED APRON.

This evening will take place one of the most important social events on record in Sierra Madre, the opening to the public of the new home of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Contractor Gilbert has been bending every energy toward getting the building in shape for the event and the ladies have been as energetic and painstaking in arranging for the furnishings. That the building is ready for occupancy on schedule time reflects great credit on both.

At the meeting of the Directors of the First National Bank held on Tuesday, a 2 per cent semi-annual dividend was declared for stockholders and a similiar amount put away as a nest egg in the surplus fund. Careful management is shown by the bank's condition.

Lazy weather, an over-full week of other affairs and lack of a committee large enough to carry out the plans for a successful Clean-Up-Day, caused its abandonment at the last moment.

Roughly 50 per cent larger than the budget bill for last year, the 1935-36 preliminary budget, totalling $62,740,120.59 today is receiving consideration of the County Board of Supervisors.

The increase over last year, amounting to $22,779,778.83 is earmarked mostly for welfare and charitable purposes.

Nominations for new officers of the Sierra Madre Post 297, American Legion were in order this week with Russell Lovejoy heading the list for Commander.

Other nomination for office included James A. Irvine, Walter Gregory, Sam Graham, Roy Pickett, Herbert J. Maugham and George Smith.

Nominations for the executive committee included Lloyd Welch, M.P. Livingston, Pickett, Collin Hill and Henry Olson.

Appointment of the new relief police officer will be acted upon at next week's meeting of the City Council. Candidates are Norman Jensen, George Smith and Arthur Johnson.

Fireworks At Rose Bowl Friday Eve

Five thousand more seats will be available this year for the 21st annual Fourth of July and Fireworks Show to be staged by Pasadena Firemen in the Rose Bowl.

So popular has the nighttime event become that Pasadena Firemen have found it necessary to provide more seats for the ever-increasing crowds.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the Pasadena Central Fire Station, 145 East Holly Street, and firemen urge show fans to get their tickets early this year.

Show plans have been underway for months and already signed up are many outstanding "Big Top" acts, including death-defying aerialists, clowns and talented stars of the animal world.

Thrilling the crowds will be huge pinwheels, thunderous aerial bombs, colorful set pieces and a flaming Niagara Falls extending along the entire south end of the famed Pasadena stadium.

If Snake-Bitten Don't Run If Not Bitten, Beat It!

With the outdoor season in full swing, vacationists are reminded that poisonous snakes present a hazard in many camping and hiking areas. The rattler, cotton-mouth moccasin and copperhead are the most common. Wear high leather boots in snake-infested country, and take special care when picking flowers or berries, or in climbing along ledges and cliffs.

If bitten, don't run. Stay quiet because muscular effort spreads the poison. Within seconds, if possible, put a tight band around the arm or leg directly above the fang marks. Make several cross cuts over the fang marks and apply suction with a suction cup or with the mouth Obtain medical care as quickly as possible.

A common hazard to hikers and campers is the ordinary tick which may transmit serious, and often fatal, diseases such as spotted fever or tularemia. Every person in a tick-infested area should make a thorough inspection of his body at least twice a day. Ticks are particularly attracted to the hair. Hikers can watch each other through the day for ticks on the neck and head. Constant vigilance is highly important.

A tick which has "taken hold" can usually be removed by using tweezers or by grasping the insect between your fingers with a piece of cloth. Pull gently but firmly to avoid leaving the tick's head under the skin. Be careful not to crush the tick on your skin and always wash your hands thoroughly afterwards. If the tick is too deeply imbedded to be removed by these measures, consult a physician at once.

Annoying out-door hazards are poison ivy, poison oak, and poison sumac. Learn to identify and avoid these plants.

If you do come in contact with any of them, wash the skin immediately and thoroughly with soap and water, followed by rubbing alcohol, if possible. If a rash develops, calamine lotion may help relieve the itching. If the rash is severe, consult your doctor.

During 1946 there was an approximate 40 per cent increase in the number of special Girl Scout troops for physically limited and socially and mentally handicapped girls.

Plaque Honors County Loss In World War II

Purchase of a memorial plaque honoring the 33 Los Angeles County employees who gave their lives in World War II was ordered by the Board of Supervisors. It will be placed in the Hall of Records until a new Courthouse is erected, Supervisor William A. Smith reports.

The plaque will carry the names of the 32 men and one woman and bear the inscription, "A tribute to those employees of the County of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles County Flood Control District and the Los Angeles County Fire Protection Districts who sacrificed their lives for the cause of freedom in World War II."

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

"HAPPY is the bride whom the sun shines on" is an old saying. But also happy is the bride who has a lovely wedding to remember. And one of the nicest pictures she'll always keep in her mind is the gorgeous wedding cake. So for her gift to 1947 brides, Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens has created a delicious cake dressed in snowy white icing. Garnished with pale yellow roses, it's a lovely sight to behold.

Bride's Cake

1⅞ cups vitaminized margarine
5 cups sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
½ tablespoon almond extract
6⅔ cups sifted flour
1¼ teaspoons salt
3½ tablespoons baking powder
2½ cups milk
15 egg whites

Cream margarine, sugar and extracts until light. Sift flour, salt and baking powder and add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Stir until smooth, but do not overbeat. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into batter. Pour batter into two pans, one 9x12x2 inches and one 16x11x2 inches, which have been brushed with margarine, lined with waxed paper and brushed with margarine. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 45-60 minutes. Cool and frost with Fluffy White Frosting and decorate with rosettes made from Confectioners Sugar Frosting. Garnish tray with fresh roses.

Fluffy White Frosting

2 egg whites
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ teaspoon almond extract
2 cups sugar
⅔ cup boiling water

Place egg whites, cream of tartar, salt, extracts and sugar in top of large double boiler or deep bowl which will fit into a larger one. Add boiling water to egg mixture and place over boiling water. Begin to beat at once with a dover egg beater or an electric beater. Beat until stiff enough to spread. (It will take about 4 minutes with electric beater and 6 minutes by hand.) Remove at once from hot water and spread on cake.

Confectioners Sugar Frosting

4 tablespoons vitaminized margarine
1 tablespoon milk
1 cup confectioners sugar

Melt margarine and add milk. Add confectioners sugar. Force through a pastry tube to make rosettes. Place on waxed paper and allow to harden before putting on frosted cake.

◆ The Daughters of the British Empire held their final meeting of the season Monday at the home of Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, 611 West Grandview. Mrs. A. E. Fulling, recently resigned Regent of the John Ruskin chapter, was to have been presented with a gift as a token of appreciation of the seven years she served in that capacity, but was unable to attend the meeting because of illness. During the evening a letter was read from Mrs. Lily Jones who is in England on a visit, following which a discussion of the silver tea, to be held this summer in the garden of Miss Adele Richardson, took place. Mrs. Hall is acting Regent of the chapter.

AEROJET TRAINS FOR UCLA

The Aerojet Engineering Corporation has been selected by the University of California at Los Angeles as an interim training center for its specialized engineering students.

Starting today the first of a select group of technical students from UCLA will punch the time clock as Aerojet employees for the summer months, receiving the standard hourly rates.

UCLA Offers Nursing Study July and August

University of California Extension this summer will bring two distinguished experts in the field of nursing from Washington, D.C., and Albany, New York.

They are Miss Marie Swanson, superintendent of school nursing, New York State Education Department, and Miss Isabelle M. Jordan, specialist in nursing care for children with the Social Security Administration in Washington.

During July and August both specialists will conduct a summer course of interest to nurses Miss Swanson will lecture for an intensive course for "The Nurse in the School Health Program" on the Los Angeles campus from July 7 through July 25, while Miss Jordan will conduct a course in "Care of the Child" meeting August 4 to 22.

In addition to these facilities for nursing studies, University Extension will conduct late June courses in Organization and Administration in Schools of Nursing, and Economics of the Ward Unit, with Miss Anna Steffen, assistant professor of nursing education, U.C.L.A., as instructor.

Information concerning all University of California Extension courses offered in the public health and allied fields may be had on request to University of California Extension Los Angeles.

MURAL MADE AT ROHLAND STUDIO

An interesting mural was completed and delivered from the Rohland Studios last week. The canvas, six by four feet, was done by Carolyn Rohland for Louis Warschaw, Pres. of Herco Company, Inc. of South Gate.

The work was rich in design, Mrs. Rohland having spent many hours in the foundry and very successfully depicted the processing of the plant, using steam much in the design.

If you drink, don't drive.
